Valuable Property Saved

One of our lady customers obtained a loan some years ago, secured on improved property. She met with reverses and could not meet payments, but provided for interest due. The bank did not foreclose the mortgage, security being ample, and meantime the property doubled in value. Now she has paid the loan, owns a valuable piece of Real Estate in this city, which but for the timely assistance by the Savings Bank could have been lost to her. No wonder she expressed profound gratitude for the treatment accorded her by the Savings Bank; and this is but one of many similar cases.

The Savings Bank helps the people of moderate means, the wage-earner and the salaried man, to acquire their homes and be independent.

The Savings Bank has been established nearly a quarter of a century. Its business is handled by officers and directors who have made good in their respective occupations.

HAS SISTER FREED FROM CITIZENSHIP
WEDDED LIFE NOT SMOOTH FOR THEM

Mrs. Winn, "Who Was Going to Shoot Somebody," Goes to Brother in North Carolina.

Mrs. Philip Winn, of 710 East Marshall Street, who created some excitement on the tenth floor of the Travelers' Building on August 2, when she appeared there armed with a "baby automatic" pistol, and vowing that she was "going to kill some one," has been discharged from the City Jail.

She was committed there by Justice Crutcher in default of a $500 peace bond. A brother in Statesville, N. C., agreed to take her out of the city, and Justice Crutcher ordered her release.

Mrs. Winn, it was said, at the time, was bent upon shooting her husband, who was in consultation with Attorney H. M. Smith, Jr. She had sworn out a warrant charging him with non-support. Mrs. Winn followed her husband to Mr. Smith's office, and with the pistol, covered with a handkerchief, in her right hand stood outside the door. Mr. Smith learned of her presence, and J. W. Erb, Superintendent of the Richmond office of Pinkerton's National Detective Agency, who was in the office at the time, went into the hall. He found Mrs. Winn, and despite her screams took the weapon away from her. She left the building and went to her headquarters at the Hotel Richmond. Chief of Police Werner said she intended to shoot some one. She was promptly arrested on the charge of "being about to commit a breach of the peace." She spent seventeen days in jail.

HELD FOR SHOOTING

Ironworker Sent to Grand Jury for Peppering Negro With Birdshot.

John Miller, an ironworker, of 208 1/2 South Pine Street, was held for the grand jury yesterday morning on the charge of peppering William Booker, a colored youth, on August 2.

Miller became angry, it was said, when he was cursed by one of a crowd of negro crabsnooters who were engaged in a game on the trestle at Foushee and Lloyd Streets. He hastened to his home, and in a few minutes returned with a shotgun and emptied both barrels. The small birdshot peppered the body of Booker. He was under treatment for some time at the City Hospital.

Miller furnished bond for his appearance at the next term of the Hustings Court.

SHOPPERS ROBBED

Pickpockets Busy Plying Trade in the Broad Street Stores.

Pickpockets who make a practice of stealing cash from the handbags of shoppers in Broad Street stores continued to cause complaints to flow into police headquarters. Plain clothes men have been making every effort to break up these thieves, so far have been unsuccessful.

Yesterday Mrs. S. C. Morton, of 222 South Third Street, reported that she was robbed of $5 while in McCrory's Five and Ten Cent Store. Mrs. J. W. Mial, of 1105 Oak Street, reported that she was robbed of $10 in the same store.

Richmond Company Sells Manufacturing Business and Brands to Standard.

WILL CONTINUE AS JOBBERS

Enormous Blotting Paper Plant in South Richmond to Be Enlarged.

Papers were signed yesterday transferring the manufacturing part of the business of the Richmond Paper Manufacturing Company, together with machinery, stock, finished and unfinished brands, good-will and name, to the Standard Paper Manufacturing Company. The amount involved, while known to be large, was not made public. The Richmond Paper Manufacturing Company will reincorporate as the Richmond Paper Company, and will thereafter do only a wholesale and jobbing business, the Standard Paper Manufacturing Company to continue as manufacturers only, dealing in nothing but the products of its own mills.

Both of the concerns have established Richmond houses, whose brands have been sold round the world. The Standard company is already the largest manufacturer of blotting paper in the world, and the taking over of the brands, stock, business, name and machinery of its chief rival will increase its business at once more than 50 per cent. Its plant occupies several blocks on both sides of Hull Street, just at the south end of the new May Bridge.

Old Plant Sold to Railroad.

Several weeks ago the Richmond Paper Manufacturing Company sold its manufacturing plant, situated between Arch Street and the canal, at the south end of Eighth Street, to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company. The deed provided that the company was to give possession within one year from date of sale, or that it might give possession and accept payment of the purchase price at any time on thirty days' notice.

The Richmond company also owned a blotting plant in South Richmond, and has its offices and stock-rooms at Governor and Ross Streets, where the company carries a large stock of general papers, stationery and bookbinders. No real estate is included in the transfer. The Standard company will take over the machinery in the Arch Street plant, with the exception of one machine for making blotting paper, which is to be otherwise disposed of, and will gradually transfer one brand after another to its own plant in South Richmond, where an annex is to be erected.

Will Keep Brands Separate.

In order to keep distinctive the various brands and trademarks, which are known around the world, and which constitute the most valuable asset transferred, the annex, in which these brands are hereafter to be manufactured, will be known as the Richmond Paper Manufacturing Company Division of the Standard Paper Manufacturing Company.

W. L. Goodwyn, Northern sales agent for the Richmond Paper Manufacturing Company, will become the sales manager of this branch of the Standard Company's business.

Since the death of Andrew H. Christian, president of the Richmond Paper Manufacturing Company, Thomas C. Gordon, former vice-president, has been president. He is expected to remain as president of the newly incorporated Richmond Paper Company, which will retain the Governor Street offices and stock rooms. Bernard W. Lipscomb will remain as secretary.

Robert G. Thornton, now general manager, will become sales manager after the transfer. The name of the business has been disposed of.

Robert S. Crump is president of the Standard Paper Manufacturing Company, Corydon H. Sutton, vice-president, and James P. Ryland, secretary. The deal is understood to have been somewhat in the nature of a merger, those stockholders of the Richmond company anxious to engage in manufacturing, and who had favored the erection of a large plant on the Arch Street factory was sold to the railroad company, swapping their stock for stock in the Standard Paper Manufacturing Company, while those who desire to push the wholesale and jobbing end of the Richmond company's business retain their control, with the understanding that the company is to apply for a new charter under the name of Richmond Paper Company, and that it will not again to enter the manufacturing field.

Will Enlarge Factory.

The main factory of the Standard Company, occupying an entire block along the river front just west of Hull Street, is devoted entirely to the manufacture of blotting paper. The new annex across Hull Street, in which the offices of the company are located, and which is almost as large as the main factory, has a large glazing plant for making arsenic finish and galvanized papers, but a large part of its output is in blotting paper, glazed on one side, a product used largely for advertising purposes.

Secretary Ryland, of the Standard Company, stated yesterday that the transfer from the Arch Street factory would be made gradually, as space could be provided for the machinery in the Standard plant, and that it was thought that all of the operatives could be taken care of.

Apparatus in charge of Chief Jones and Assistant Chief Ruffo made record runs to the fire, which was in a locally dreaded firemen. In a few minutes many streams of water were playing upon the flames, and they were put out after a sharp fight of about fifteen minutes.

The blaze is said to have been caused by hot metal in the casting-room. It furnished one of the hottest the firemen have had to deal with in a long while. A large crowd was attracted, but it quickly dispersed when they found that the war of fire-fighting exhibition of fire-fighting.

Boy Escaped From Laurel.

The police yesterday were asked to look for Edward Hall, eighteen years old, who escaped from the Laurel Industrial School and is believed to have come to Richmond.

TWO CANDIDATES

Other Five Eager for Immediate Canvass of Primary Returns.

STATE COMMITTEE TO MEET

Acting Chairman Echols Says Body Will Convene About September 5.

All candidates in the recent State Democratic primary, save Judge Samuel W. Williams and J. Thompson, have indicated their willingness to have the returns, now in the hands of Secretary J. N. Breneman, opened and tabulated in advance of the meeting of the State committee. Mr. Breneman said last night that he had been misinformed as to Mr. Brown's post-office address, which probably accounts for his not having heard from the candidate. Mr. Brown, however, had written him again yesterday. Judge Williams has been in Southwest Virginia for the past week, and has not yet returned. Mr. Breneman said he would take the returns which he early this week and if all went well there seemed no reason why the canvass of the votes cast should not be begun late this week.

Will Take Some Time.

With adequate facilities to classify and tabulate the work will take some time, and if there are missing precincts which must be sent for, more time will elapse. At least a week's time will be required. The State committee to pass on the returns and award the certificates of nomination.

Mr. Breneman said he had been informed recently by county chairmen of several precincts, where, for one reason or another, no election was held. Without this information the State committee might have sat here indefinitely waiting for the returns to come in.

Statement by Echols.

The following special was received by The Times-Dispatch from Staunton last night, indicating the position of the State committee in regard to certifying the result of the primary of August 5:

Edward Echols, Democratic State chairman pro tempore, asked when and where the primary returns will be received, and when the committee will meet to tabulate the returns in advance of the meeting of the committee, so that all the committee will have to do when it meets will be to verify the work and attest the result. He has a letter from Secretary Breneman saying that he had secured such consent from Mr. Thompson, Machen, Pollard, Cumming and Kolner; that he had not heard from Mr. Brown, and had not been able to get in touch with Judge Williams, whom he reported somewhere in Southwest Virginia. Should Mr. Breneman again be convinced of these two, he will notify Mr. Echols, and the latter will at once go to Richmond and be present when Mr. Breneman begins the tabulation, and if necessary remain while the work is being done.

Should one or both fail to give their consent to the arrangement, Mr. Echols will wait till the secretary notifies him the returns are all in hand, or, preferably, till the secretary notifies him that the work is all done, and he will then call the committee together in Richmond, and the committee will proceed to canvass the returns. He thinks it may be about September 5 before the committee meets. Progress now waits on the action of Mr. Brown and Mr. Williams.

One Man Hurt in Auto Wreck.

A heavy Simplex automobile owned by Samuel Register, of "Dunreath," near Westhampton, turned over on its side, and was damaged to a great extent, and a Hudson Six, owned by J. W. Briggs, 2011 West Broad Street, was almost completely wrecked last night about 8:30 o'clock in a rear-end collision in the Cary Street Road about half mile beyond the Bell Line.

S. H. Cottrell, of 1000 Park Avenue, who was with Briggs, was at first thought to have been seriously injured in the accident and was rushed to Grace Hospital in an ambulance. William Miller, Examination by surgeons, however, showed him to have been merely bruised.

Register, car, which was being driven by Charles E. Register, was on the way to Richmond. Register had stopped to render aid to Emanuel Raab, of 200 West Franklin Street, whose machine had broken down. When the work of repair had been completed, Register, who had with him several companions, had just started to drive off when the collision occurred.

Going Forty Miles an Hour.

The Briggs car, which witnesses said was going about forty miles an hour, and was also on the way to Richmond, crashed into the rear of the Register machine just as it was moving off. The latter car was knocked about sixty feet and turned over. The occupants, in some remarkable manner, escaped injury. Cottrell was thrown out and the car almost completely wrecked.

The rear tires on the Register machine were torn off by the force of the blow. Cottrell was thrown out and the car otherwise damaged. It was necessary to leave both machines in the road. They will be brought into town to-day. That no one was killed was a remarkable occurrence, and Mr. Register last night. "All of the occupants in our machine were thrown out when it turned over, and that none of us was caught beneath it, almost a miracle."

Register added that all of the lights on his car, including that on the rear, were burning brightly.

The Raab car was not struck.

Marriage License.

License to marry was issued yesterday by the clerk of the Hustings Court to Melvether S. Leigh and Minnie F. Yalden.

FAVORS IDEA OF MUNICIPAL EXHIBIT

Subcommittee Will Recommend Plan to Committee on Advertising.

SPACE TO COST $1,400

Would Educate Citizens to Take Interest in City Work, Says Peters.

If the advice of the subcommittee on advertising and enterprises is followed by the parent committee and the City Council, the city of Richmond will install in the Manufacturers' Exhibit a permanent display of the products of municipal activity for the enlightenment of citizens and visitors, who will daily inspect the big industrial enterprise. In installing such an exhibit it will follow a practice adopted with good results by several of the progressive cities of the North and West.

The plan was brought to the attention of the Council Committee on Advertising and Enterprises by Manager Horace E. Smith, of the Manufacturers' Exhibit, at its last regular meeting. At that time he outlined a model exhibit which the city might install at small cost. The committee appointed a subcommittee of three, composed of President Peters, of the Common Council; President Adams, of the Board of Aldermen, and Alderman Mitchell, to look into the advisability of the plan and submit a report.

Will Recommend Exhibit.

The subcommittee has decided unanimously in favor of the exhibit project and will recommend the plan to the full committee when it meets in regular session, at 8 o'clock next Thursday evening. Leaving to the full committee the selection of the space and the amount of area to be devoted to the exhibit, the subcommittee will recommend that the city lease for this purpose a modified frontage on one of the exhibition floors at a rental of about $1,400 a year.

"I believe that such a display will be especially valuable in educating the people to take an interest in the work of the city," said Chairman Peters, of the subcommittee yesterday. "I have been chairman of the Advertising and Enterprises Committee since its creation, and no project for advertising has been so attractive and so valuable as the exhibit which it has appealed to me. The other members of the subcommittee hold the same opinion."

It is proposed to divide the city's exhibit space into several distinct divisions. In one of the subdivisions the Health Department will install an exhibit, illustrating the sanitary work conducted by the city, as well as municipal prevention of mortality, disease and its prevention. Other booths will be occupied with exhibits from the water, gas, public school and other departments.

Distribute Literature.

The subcommittee is of the opinion that the city could co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce in distributing the literature showing the advantages of Richmond as a city in which to work and live. Other literature illustrating the city's health and commercial advantages could be prepared from time to time, and be supplied to interested visitors.

The manufacturers' exhibit will occupy the second and third floors of the Chamber of Commerce Building, now in course of construction at Sixth and Main Streets. An effort is being made to secure enough exhibitors to justify the exhibit in leasing also the fourth floor of the building. If the Council authorizes a municipal exhibit on the lines recommended by the subcommittee, it will practically assure the leasing of the additional space, because most of the exhibit area on the first two floors has been contracted for by the eighty or more manufacturers who have already made reservations.

It was hoped to have the manufacturers' exhibit open by the middle of the fall season, but it appears now that its formal opening will be delayed until the first of next year. The building that will house the exhibit as well as the Chamber of Commerce, is a ten-story structure, and one of the handsomest in the city.

Bank Installs New Vault.

The Bank of the Commonwealth has just completed the installation of a new fireproof and burglar-proof vault, situated on the second floor of the building at F and Broad Streets. The vault is nearly seven feet high, weighs five tons, and is made of two steel plates. The safe is eight inches thick, and the mechanism is so delicate that a sheet of paper between the door and the safe proper will prevent locking. The time lock is automatic, and is controlled by four watches, any one of which will work the mechanism. Once the time lock is set, there is no possibility of opening the vault until the time expires.

FIREMEN CAPTURE
NEGRO WITH RAZORTHINKS BRISTOL
WILL WIN FIGHT

Draws Weapon When Threatened With Arrest—Caught After Chase.

Aroused by ugly language on the part of a surly negro who had been leading about the place for some time, members of Truck Company No. 2, Richmond Fire Department, in Grace Street, near Eighteenth, yesterday afternoon threatened him with arrest for disorderly conduct.

With an oath, the negro informed them that there were not enough men in the Fire Department to put him behind the bars, and indicating that he would defend himself, drew a razor from his pocket. As one man, all of the firemen rushed at the colored man, who ran with great speed through Grace Street, throwing away the razor as he fled.

He was overtaken after a swift chase, and, held by two firemen, was marched to the First Police Station. There he gave his name as William Dabney, and was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

The razor was found after Dabney had been caught and it will be used as evidence against him when the case is called to-morrow morning in Police Court.

John Windfield, colored, was locked up at the Second Police Station, also for carrying a concealed weapon, a revolver.
